Select Miscellany.

Story of a Man Who Past His Time in the Penitentiary Pleasantly.

The Jackson (Minn.) Citizen tells this story:

In 1831-2 there livad in Monroe county, Miss., a planter named Wooley. He was a half-breed, at least there was a good deal of Cherokee Indian in him. He owned about 200 slaves, and had all the worst habits of the old time planter—drinking, gambling, and horse racing. These pursuits alternated, formed his sole occupation, the plantation being managed by an overseer. He had the sole virtue of possessing Indian veneration for the sacredness of his word. He would not execute a note for any purchase whatever, and held all men in sovereign contempt who violated their pledged word. He had no compunction in killing a man in what he called a just quarrel; but his word was his bond. This was his well-known character, and he could have got credit for thousands on his word easier than other men could have got hundreds. At the time we speak he had killed several persons in gambling quarrels, and he was looked upon as a man not to be crossed except at the risk of life.

One night while playing cards in Columbus, a quarrel arose about the game. His opponent was a known desperado, and he gave the lie to Wooley's statement about the game. Bowies flashed out simultaneously—both were slightly wounded, when a lucky blow laid Wooley's opponent dead upon the floor. Next morning Wooley was arrested—because he did not care that it should be otherwise. Wooley had carried his killing so far that the judge felt bound to commit him, in order to avoid the imputation of being affected either by fear of his desperadoism or wealth. Accordingly to jail went Wooley. The jailor was a weak man—weak in courage and weak to resist the influence of a doucer. After bearing this confinement for a day or two Wooley sent for the jailor.

"See here, Jim," said he, "you know me; you know I never break my word. Now, I want to go out and have a social game with the boys. You can just leave me the key, and when it gets bed time I will come, lock myself in, and it will be all right."

This argument was enforced by material considerations; and night after night Wooley used to come out and enjoy his nocturnal liberty. The Court sitting soon, he got his case put off, and giving bail in the sum of $10,000, was released.

At the next term of the Court, Wooley was put upon trial; the jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and the judge sentenced him to one year in the penitentiary at Jackson. The papers were duly made out, and the Sheriff proposed to start with him for Jackson, but Wooley demurred.

"You know, Sheriff," said he, "that the county is poor—can't afford the trip—and so I'll just let my boy Cæsar drive me down to Jackson, and save all the expense. Got the papers?"

The Sheriff produced them, and, ere he was aware, Wooley seized them and put them into his pocket.

"All right," said he, I shall be off tomorrow morning."

The Sheriff knew he had a desperate man to deal with, but when he reflected that Wooley never broke his word, and had besides over $100,000 worth of property he could not move, he made a virtue of necessity, and left things to take their turn.

True to his word, Wooley left for Jackson, and in time arrived. Putting up at Mansion House, he sallied out, visited all the gambling hells, with which that town even then abounded, and the next morning drove up to the Penitentiary. Entering the ward room, he inquired:

"Where shall I find the warden?"

"I am the man," said Col. Dickson.

"Well, I've brought you a prisoner."

"Where is he?" inquired the Warden.

"Here; I am the man," and Wooley handed over the Sheriff' mittimus.

The Warden was amazed. Had he a lunatic to deal with, or had the man killed the Sheriff, and then come to the prison to defy him? He could not tell; but he determined quickly to keep the man, since he offered himself.

"Now," said Wooley, "let us go through this place and see how it looks," and they went. As they returned to the guard-room, Wooley had talked so pleasantly that the warden felt reassured, and said jocosely:

"Now, Mr. Wooley, what branch of the business do you think you would like best?"

"To tell you the truth, colonel," said Wooley, "I never did a day's work in my life, and I don't think I'd like any of your cussed trades. I'll tell you how we can fix it—I'll clerk for you, just for the name of the thing, and we'll live jollily together, till the year's up."

The warden saw he had a character to deal with, and concluded that a man who would go into prison of his own accord, would not run away, and acquiesced. Wooley staid his year accordingly; nominal clerk or companion by day, and gambler in Jackson by night. He kept the ward-room supplied with Havanas, and a sly nook in the office always contained the best of liquors. His year up, he left unregretting but regretted, for at heart he was a good fellow, and made the warden a good companion.

The Future of the Republican Party.

The Chicago Temes gives some very sound ideas, and makes some sensible remarks on this subject. There are those, it says, who think the final success of the XVth Amendment to the Constitution brings the Republican party to an end. Its mission, these persons think, has been performed. Organized in the first instance, to prevent the extension of African slavery on this continent, it was enabled, chiefly by reason of the folly and madness of the friends of that terrible institution, to bring a bout its abolition everywhere; to break every bond, and set every man free. That having been done, not only, but the freedmen having now been put on their feet, having equal advantages with all other men in so far as government may justly interfere in such matters, what more is to be done?

* * * * * * *

The difference between the Republican and the Democratic party is that the one is a party of progress and the other a party of retrogression. The Republicans do not believe in moving backward. The mission of the Republican party cannot be ended until the end of political evil shall come: until all misery and wrong springing from government shall have passed away. The adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment will unquestionably result in great good; but not immediately. The embodiment in law of other reforms brought about by the Republicans will result in great good. But to stand still is a crime; to retrograde is both a crime and a blunder.—Between the progressive and retrogressive elements of the body politic there is an irrepressible conflict. It can no more be repressed than storms can be repressed with umbrellas, or the tides driven back with mops. Just now there needs to be a transition period of parties. The Republicans will have enough to do for the present and immediate future in securing the victories of the past; in keeping down the retrograders.—Meantime new issus, involving principles and progress will arise. The progressive party will rally around their banner to defeat them. Such is a law of national nature, if we may say so.—Such party movements in the present stage of civilization, are no less natural than that rivers flow down stream. What those issues may be, it would not be safe yet to expressly predict. * * * But whatever may be the issues, they will involve progress and benificence for the people if adopted, retrogression and misery if defeated. They have but a battle-like view of our political situation who does not see where the Republicans will stand when these great issues of the future shall take form and shape. The Democrats will stand by Chaos and Old Night, while the Republicans will help on with the glorious work of making the world brighter, and better, and happier. The Democrats will stand gaping at the dead body crustly dangling in the air; the Republicans will reverently rejoice, moving forward at the same time, that the soul goes marching on.

Happy Heart and Home.

Domestic life presents many opportunities for the exercise of virtue, as well as the more exalted positions of honor and ambition. For though its sphere is more humble, and its transactions are less splendid, yet the duties peculiarly incumbent on it, constitute the basis of all public character. Perfection in private life is by far the more arduous attainment of the two, since it involves a higher degree of virtue, to acquire the cool and silent admiration of constant and close observers, than to catch the undistinguishing applause of the vulgar. Many accustomed to the business of the world, may think it a mean occupation to be engaged in the duties of a family. It is, however, by comparison that they are rendered to a superficial eye, petty and insignificant. View them apart, and their necessity and importance immediately rises. How many daily occasions there are for the exercise of patience, forbearance, benevolence, good humour, cheerfulness, candour, sincerity, compassion, self-denial! How many instances occur of satirical hints, of ill-natured witticisms, of fretfulness, strife and envyings; besides those of disrespect, discontent, sloth, and very many other seeds of evil, the magnitude of which is perhaps small, but for the guilt of which shall most assuredly be judged. When we consider that private life also has its trials, temptations and troubles, it ought surely to make us vigilant, when around our own fireside, lest we should quiet our apprehensions, and cease from our daily watchfulness.

Prove your love and affection for your family, and your friendship and attachment for all your connections, by using, not partial, hypocritical, momentary acts of kindness, but one universal, constant, animated effort, one sincere desire of rendering others happy, united with compassion for their sufferings, charity and candor for their errors, and forgiveness for their injuries. Especially cultivate a benevolent disposition, an inclination rather to think and speak well than ill of those around, accompanied with that candor which exposes not the errors, but rather the virtues of others to view; and which brings to light with regret their failings, for no other end than their suppression.

The Most Important Event Since the Nation Came into Life.

Ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The Importance of Education.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Mar. 30, 1870.

To the Senate and House of Representatives.

It is unusual to notify the two houses of Congress by message, of the promulgation by proclamation of the Secretary of State of the ratification of a constitutional amendment. In view, however, of the vast importance of the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution this day declared a part of that revered instrument, I deem a departure from the usual custom justifiable. A measure which makes, at once, four millions of people voters, who were heretofore declared by the highest tribunal in the land, not citizens of the United States nor eligible to become so, with the assertion that at the time of the Declaration of Independence the opinion was fixed and universal in the civilized portion of the white race, and regarded as an axiom in morals as well as in politics, that black men had no rights which white men were bound to respect, is indeed a measure of grander importance than any other one act of the kind from the foundation of our free government to the present time.

Institutions like ours, in which all power is derived directly from the people, must depend mainly upon their intelligence, patriotism and industry. I call the attention, therefore, of the newly enfranchised race to the importance of their striving in every honorable manner to make themselves worthy of their new privilege. To the race more favored heretofore by our laws I would say, withhold no legal privilege of advancement to the new citizens. The framers of our Constitution firmly believed that a republican form of government could not endure without intelligence and education generally diffused among the people. The Father of his Country, in his farewell address, used this language:—"Promote, then, as a matter of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of the government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened." In his first annual message to Congress, the same views were forcibly presented, and are again urged in his eighth message.

I repeat that the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution completes the greatest civil change, and constitutes the most important event that has occurred since the nation came into life. The change will be beneficial in proportion to the heed that is given to the urgent recommendations of Washington. If these recommendations were important then with a population of but a few millions, how much more important now with a population of forty millions and increasing at a rapid ratio? I would therefore call upon Congress to take all means within their constitutional power to promote and encourage popular education throughout the country, and upon the people everywhere, to see to it that all who possess and exercise political rights shall have an opportunity to acquire that knowledge which will make their share in the Government a blessing and not a danger. By such means only can the benefits contemplated by this amendment to the Constitution be secured.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, March 29, '70.

HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State of the United States.

To all whom these presents may come, Greeting:

KNOW YE, That the Congress of the United States, on or about the 27th day of February, in the year 1859, passed a resolution in the words and figures following, to wit:

"A resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution namely.

"ARTICLE 15. Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

"Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

And further, that it appears from official documents on file in the Department that the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, proposed as aforesaid, has been ratified by the Legislatures of the States of North Carolina, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Main, Louisiana, Michigan, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, New York, New Hampshire, Nevada, Vermont, Missouri, Virginia, Alabama, Kansas, Mississippi, Minnesota, Ohio, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Texas, in all twenty-nine, States. And further, that the States whose Legislatures have so ratified said proposed amendment constitute three-fourths of the whole number of States in the United States; and further, that it appears from an official document on file in this Department that the Legislature of the State of New York has since passed resolutions claiming to withdraw said ratification of said amendment, which had been made by the Legislature of that State, and of which official notice had been filled in this Department; and further, that it appears from an official document on file in this Department that the Legislature of Georgia has by resolution ratified said proposed amendment.

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State of the United States, by virtue and in pursuance of the second section of an act of Congress approved on the 20th day of April, in the year 1818, entitled "an act to provide for the publication of the laws of the United States, and for other purposes," do hereby certify that the amendment aforesaid has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Department of State to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 30th day of March, in the year of our Lord 1870, and of the independence of the United States the 94th.

[Signed] HAMILTON FISH.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!!

The Bellefonte "Republican" and the "American Agriculturist."

We are now prepared to offer to the people of Centre county, a Great Bargain for the coming year. It is this: To every subscriber who will send us $3.00, in advance, we will send the

and the

for one year. Of the Republican we need not speak at present.

The American Agriculturist is a work that no farmer, nor house keeper should be without. As a farm journal we think it has no superior in the world—certainly none in the United States. It is issued monthly, and the subscription price is $1.50 per annum. By clubing with the Republican you save fifty cents, and secure more good reading matter than you can obtain in any other way for the same money.

We hope the reading public will avail themselves of this very liberal offer.

REMOVED.

We have removed the office of the Republican, from Bishop St., to the Humes Building, on Allegheny St., three doors South of the First National Bank. We are therefore no longer the "Organ on Bishop St." but the "Peoples organ" fearless and free on all. Our latch string is always out.

Cash Value of a Laboring Man--A Power in the State.

It is frequently remarked of persons who do not possess any property, and who depend upon their daily labor for the support of themselves and families, that they are "worth nothing" financially speaking. This language is generally indulged in by men in the community who style themselves business men, and who get rich off the necessities of other men. Let us examine the question financially, and see if their assertions are correct.

Last year the price of common labor averaged $1,50 per day. Admitting that the laborer who received $1.50 per day, and that it required the whole of that sum to support his family, nevertheless we contend that that laborer was worth, in cash to his family, the sum of $7,989.

The amount he would receive for one years labor, at $1,50 per day, would be $472.50, which amount would be the interest, at six per cent. on $7,989, which latter sum would be the cash value of the laboring man to his family.

The cash value of the laboring man to the community is much more than the above named sum, as labor is the only true wealth of any country. Without labor our forges, furnaces, woolen mills, and indeed Manufactories of all kinds would cease to be. The music of the loom and the shuttle would be silenced forever. Our national and other Banks could close their doors, and our most enterprising merchants take in their signs. The Press with all its boasted independence and with its glorious, beaming rays of light and truth would cease to be a power in the earth. Without labor civilization would recede and the Bat and the owl would soon occupy the crimson chambers of our would be business men.

Let the laboring men of the United States realize their true position. Let them reflect that labor is honorable—that labor is wealth. Let him remember that they are a power in the State—that to them—this great Government is indebted, for all it possesses of Liberty, glory, grandeur.

The star spangled banner trampled under foot by slave-driving aristocrats of the South, would have long since been trailed in the dust and ceased to be the glorious ensign of Liberty, had it not been for the patriotism of the masses, and the strong and brawny arms of the millions of laboring men who, in answer to their country's call, put on the blue garments of loyalty, and like true soldiers, bore the old flag safely through four years of desperate, bloody war, and gave it up to the government all covered with glory—purer—more resplendent, dearer to every patriotic heart than ever before.

Gen. Geo. H. Thomas, died of apoplexy at San Francisco on Tuesday last.

The war record of Gen. Thomas, is so familiar to every reader that no recapitulation of it is necessary at this time. Suffice it to say that he was one of the purest, ablest, bravest and most successful of our war Generals, and as such achieved a renown which will live forever in the history of the country.

The highest honors were paid to his remains in San Francisco, after which they were shipped east, for interment at Troy, N. Y.

President Grant, most of the members of the Cabinet, and many other distinguished civil and military officers left Washington to attend the funeral and pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the distinguished dead.

Scarlet Fever is raging in the vicinity of Eagleville & Beech Creek.

The Democratic Association of Pennsylvania Dead.

The Furniture Sold.

The 28th day of March saw the last of the Democratic Association of Philadelphia. Ever since the sound thrashing administered to them in the Grant campaign in 1868, the copperhead wing and the war element of the party have been at swords points. Recently a portion of the leaders declared in favor of negro suffrage. They avowed that the 15th Amendment was a fixed fact, and under the circumstances it was the duty of all patriotic Democrats, to labor, and that incessantly, to secure the votes of this new element in politics. But the old Copperheads said no; death first.

This was the straw that broke the camels back. The fight came—the parties clinched. The Pats, the Barnies, the O'Lafferties were all there brandishing their shelalah's. Heads were cut, arms and legs broken, eyes were gouged out and scattered around miscellaneously; but we are happy to state death ensued to no one except the "Democratic Association of Philadelphia." This is defunct.

Immediately notice was given in all the Democratic city papers Stating that the furniture and fixtures of the Democratic Association would be disposed of at public sale. The Philadelphia Press says; "In accordance with this announcement a motley crowd gathered yesterday (the 28th) at the rooms of the association, in the old-fashioned but respectable mansion at Ninth and Arch streets. The crowd was a curious one, and was made up of all classes. Democrats and Republicans, Irish and colored men, coalesced together and kept up a friendly rivalry in bidding for the effects of the defunct Democracy.

A few members of the moribund association with woe-begone countenances, mingled in the throng and helped to run up the prices by putting in an occasional bid. Keepers of junk-shops second-handed dealers, and a sprinkling of professional thieves made up the residue."

Who would have thought ten years ago that the despised negro of that day, would be the independent voter of this? And who would have thought that he would have stood shoulder to shoulder—an equal bidder—with Patrick and Barney at the Administrators sale of the furniture and fixtures of the defunct Democracy? Such is life. We are informed that Democratic patriotism was so low at this sale, that two good engravings of Washington and Jackson, were knocked down at $10,00 each. The engravings of Seymore and Blair, would not bring any price. Nary Irishman would put a bid upon either of them. We are right glad to know that our Irish fellow citizens are becoming sensible.

Among the papers found in the secretaries which were sold, was the following letter, which will prove interesting to many of our readers:

MILROY, Oct. 2 1868, 8.50 A. M.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

Wm. A. Wallace—Chairman Democratic State Central Committee, No. 901, Arch Street, Philadelphia—Hon. Sir:—In relation to your request in the matter of the Soldiers Convention now held in the city of Philadelphia, the following is a list of those who left this place. Should some of these Radicals be a little dilatory in coming back I will hereafter give a closer descriptive list of them:—

1. Captain R. B. Barger, a short man, about 25 years, light complexion, gray eyes, sandy hair.
2. Frank B Miller, tall young man, about 5 feet 11 inches, dark complexion, blue eyes, dark hair.
3. Captain J. Cox, middle height man, of middle age, sandy whiskers.
4. Lieut. A. Hiland, middle height man, (5 feet 4 inches), quick in motion.
5. —— Graham, a stout young man, about 5 feet 1 inch, rather good looking, light complexion.
6. John Coulter, slim young man, light pants and vest, dark coat light complexion.

These are the most dangerous, but if any of the rest don't come back, I will remit at once—their names and place where I no doubt think they can be found—these men are from Milroy, Mifflin county.

We are getting along finely—are confident of success—and fear not our enemies, they are adopting all plans and schemes, but I have my broadsides ready for them at the coming contest. I am now confident of seventy new converts in my township, and with that I can openly say, we may gain the county. Col. J. P. Linton speaks tonight at this place—on Tuesday last he spoke at Lewistown, the crowd was great and enthusiastic, and we will try the same for him to night. We, or at least the people in majority wishes him success over Dan. J. Morrell. As to myself, I have now, for this campaign, spended about ten quires of paper (foolscap) in just writing political items—in both languages—for the different journals (Democratic), in this State, besides the amount of papers I send away; but it is a small item, if we may only, with the help of the kind Providence, have the pleasure, to be crowned with success—may it be so, is the wish of your humble servant and friend in cause,

JOHN KARSTON,
Box 17, Milroy P. O.,
Mifflin County, Penn.

Hon. Wm. A. Wallace, Phila., Pa.

The above letter shows conclusively, how W. A. Wallace feared the soldiers in 1868. It shows that he and his fellow copperheads feared the soldiers who attended the soldier's Convention that fall in Philadelphia, would remain there to aid the Republicans to carry the city. Hence his letter to John Karston, and John's reply to Wallace, giving a discriptive list of the soldiers who went to that Convention from Milroy.

John describes our foreman, Capt. R. B. Barger, pretty well. Similar letters were sent by Wallace, all over the State, and similar answers received. Many of them were resurrected at the aforesaid sale of the effects of the defunct Democracy on the 28th ult.

Taking The Census.

Applications for appointment as census takers are now becoming quite numerous, and the Marshal is likely to have his hands full of his business for some time to come. As Congress has rejected all new plans, the census this year will be taken on the same basis as in 1850 and 1860. The law of 1850 provides that the census shall be taken by the United States Marshals of their respective districts, with the aid of such assistants as shall be required. Each State is divided into census districts to be composed of not less than 20,000 persons. The assistants for taking the census are appointed and commissioned by the Marshall, are paid their compensation as follows: Two cents for every name taken, ten cents for every farm, fifteen cents for every productive establishment of industry, two cents for every deceased person, and two per cent. of the gross amount for names enumerated, for social statistics, and ten cents per mile for travel. The enumeration must begin the first day of June, and the census must be completed, and the returns be all sent into the Secretary of the Interior by the first of November following. The Superintendent of the census is Francis A. Walker, late of the Bureau of Statistics, and Assistant Special Commissioner of Revenue. It will be seen by the foregoing that the compensation afforded an enumerator, providing the district allotted to him shall not contain less than 20,000 persons would be about $900, or more. The marshall is forbiden by law to accept any bribe or consideration, for an appointment or assistant, and is liable to $1000 fine, if he should be convicted of so doing.—Exchange.

The European Mail, published in London, is one the best publications in Europe. It gives a weekly summary of all the important events transpiring on the eastern continent, and nearly all parts of the globe. We might suggest to the publishers, if our suggestion would be of any use, that their publication might be made more interesting to many of their European readers, if a little more space was occupied in giving a summary of news from the United States.

The following is about all the news from this country that we were able to find in the last number of that periodical:

"The Member for Mississippi.—The Spectator has the following comments upon the election of Mr. Revels:—"The whirligig of time has never brought about its revenges with more picturesque effect than by bringing a colored member for Mississippi, Mr. Revels, to that same place in the Senate which was last occupied by Mr. Jefferson Davis. Mr. Revels took his seat on Saturday (February 26), being admitted by 'a strict party vote' of 48 to 8. He is the first negro who ever sat in Congress, and has reached the Senate at a single step. 'Ten years ago, when Mr. Buchanan was still President of the United States, and the South hardly yet prepared even for secession, Mr. Revels was one of those 'weak things of the world, and things which are not,' which God has called to confound the mighty things of the world, and to bring to naught the things which are. Surely the deliverance of Israel from Egypt itself was not more conspicuously a work of Divine power, or more conspicuously disregarded as a sign by the generation which witnessed it.'"

Secure Your Farms.

In 1869 an Act was passed by the Legislature, and approved by the Governor, requiring all persons owning unpatented lands in Centre county, to procure patents for the same and pay the indebtedness on them due the Commonwealth before the 1st of June, 1870. In every case where this is neglected, suit will be instituted, and the lands sold by the Commonwealth for the purchase money and patent fees due the State, the sale to take place at Harrisburg, on the 1st day of June, 1870.

This being the law, every person owning lands in this county should examine the official docket in the Recorders office, at the Court House, and at once secure a patent, if they have not one already. By failing to do so, they will irrevocably loose their lands, and in many cases the result of many years hard labor. Farmers and land owners, examine this matter immediately.

In 1858 it was ascertained that the whole coal area of the globe was only about 200,000 square miles. By a recent Geological survey, it has been ascertained that the coal area of the U. S. alone, is more than the estimate of the whole globe was in 1858. Take the coal area of the United States to be 200,000 square miles, which is below the actual figures, and estimating 30 entire feet to the ton, and the average thickness to be six feet, we have 2,230,272,000,000 of tons so far discovered in the United States, making eleven times as much as in all Europe.

Wanted, to Know!—The where abouts of J. G. Meyer? Is he in Harrisburg—at Motz's Narrows or in Lebanon county? If he by being absent from his seat selling flour, suffered the L. C. & S. C. R. For the Republican.

Messrs. Eds:—A beautiful article appeared in the Philipsburg Journal of the 26th February, and it is truly cheering to learn that good old Centre county is rising out of obscurity to stand in the front rank of a literary world. The beautiful article to which we allude, is that superlative description of the singing society at Rock Springs.

Having the bump of veneration well developed, he gives a grand description of the origin of music in Egypt, where he says it was first cultivated. It is true he was not bound to philosophize upon the human heart, with its constitutional love for harmony, poetry and music. His impulse was so strong that he could not stop to reflect upon the grandeur of the music with which heaven and earth were cheered when the corner stone of the world was laid: when "the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy."

But the building up of this little planet of ours with the joy it gave and the music it excited, were themes of but little importance to our hero when he rose, as a brilliant light in the literary world, distancing all his predecessors in rhetoric and criticism. How fortunate it is for us to live in this 19th century. How fortunate that we have amongst us, a person inspired with powers, to gather up all the broken and imperfect fragments of Art, Science and Literature, harmonizing all, and choosing from them that long-looked for and glorious light which is destined to supercede all future mental labor after improvement.

Away with the old staggered Aristotle and his successors—Lord Bacon, with all his improvements on logic and philosophy; away with Rusken and all his critics; away with all your bald poets, their light is growing dim and must soon go out in the presence of our luminary. And away with all your costly libraries, when your correspondent furnishes us with that anticipated volume, in which all knowledge necessary for the golden age will be concentrated. But especially how fortunate that modest, unpretending and harmonious little band, the Rock Spring Singing Society, because our paragon paid them a short visit. Had he not done so, some of them might not have been known outside their own county; but now they are introduced to the world.

How deeply our friend has drawn upon philosophic lore, in his description of our young men. But whence has he drawn his powers of description of those young soldiers?

Rhetoricians and critics have failed, in all ages, to raise a standard of beauty, and the artists chistl and brush have also failed; but our artist has, with a single dash of his pen, drawn the inimitable picture to perfection, and laid the young women of Rock Springs under ceaseless obligations for what he has done by presenting them more fair and beautiful in fact, than Venus in fiction and fable.

It is a great mystery why the world had to wait thousands of years for the coming of this great luminary, and why all those perfections should be connected in a single individual. But our friend can easily explain the whole matter, and doutbless will in his next epistle, as, no doubt, he will give us a description of some of the spectators for the aspirant to the County Superintendency, as well as school-teachers, and students of Williamsport Academy, and the friends from Nittany Valley who were shipwrecked in a city not far from here, all of whom escaped his notice in the first, and also many other items which would be interesting to the community, and all of which would only give scope to his lucid imagination and historical acumen.

A Sad Story.

A sad case of the terrible results of intemperate habits has just come to notice in New Jersey. A young man of good family in England, of splendid personal appearance, large in stature, finely limbed, with an intelligent countenance, and a general bearing that denoted culture and genius, became infatuated with the intoxicating cup to such a degree as to neglect business, home, wife, and children in fact, at times to plunge in a series of carousals that threatened health and even life, as well as reputation. Arriving at a penitential stage in this mad career, he determined upon a work of reform. In order to break away from evil associations whose power he dreaded, with the advice and consent of friends and family, he left the scenes of his childhood among the hills of Yorkshire, and came to this country, where he hoped to begin life anew among strangers, and make a new home for his wife and little ones. He had not been here many months before the serpent of temptation charmed him back to his old habits. It is said that at first he obtained a clerkship in this city, which was lost through his intemperance and neglect of duties. Then he proceeded to the beautiful village of Passaic, N. J., fourteen miles from this city, where he obtained employment as a teamster, and was well liked. On St Patrick's Day he came to this city to witness the procession and returned to Passaic very much intoxicated. On Friday, in company with several others, he entered Collyer's Saloon, and asked for drinks for his party, which were refused him. He then sat down in a chair and fell in a stupor, and finally slipped down upon the floor in a "dead drunk" condition. In this state he was picked up, laid upon a bed, and left asleep and apparently snoring. After a time, some parties went into the room, and not hearing any sound examined him more closely. A ghastly spectacle was presented to their horrified gaze. Extended straight on his back, with his head thrown out, throat distended mouth open, and eyes glazed in the glare of death, he lay a corpse. Help was summoned, but, of course, it was of no avail. Yesterday Justice Simmons held an inquest, and Dr. Terhue made a postmortem examination of the body, and returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from congestion of the brain, brought on by the excessive use of liquor. The remains were buried yesterday. In his pocket was found a letter written by himself to his wife. It was couched in the most affectionate language, and the penmanship and style of composition indicated that he had seen better and more hopeful days. The letter and other souvenirs will be forwarded to his wife in Yorkshire, England. The name of the deceased was Edward Bowne.—New York Times yesterday.

A Ringing Letter From Sheridan.

The following official communication from Gen. Sheridan has been received at Washington:

Headq'rs Mil. Div. of the Missouri,

Chicago, March 18, 1870.

General W. T. Sherman, Commander U. S. Army, Washington, D. C.

General: The further report of Col. Baker, in reference to the punishment of the Piegan Indians, has not yet been received. It seems strange that there should be such a want of knowledge of the position which army officers have to maintain in reference to Indian affairs.

I have in my command at least five thousand miles of frontier settlements, my chief and only duty to give protection to the families residing on these long lines against the outrages of Indians. The Government has invited these settlers by opening the lands to them for pre-emption and improvement.

The number of men, women and children on this extended frontier is very great, and there is not a day, from one year's end to the other, that these families are exempt from the fearful thought of being murdered in the most fiendish manner; the men scalped, the women ravished, and the brains of the children dashed out.

When I said in a previous letter, that 800 had met that fate since 1862, I was below the figure and should have said 1,200. My duties are to protect these people. I have nothing to do with the Indians; but in this connection, there is scarcely a day in which I do not recive the most heart-rending appeals to save settlers from the cruel fate which may come upon them, and I am forced to the alternative of choosing whether I shall regard their appeals, or allow them to be butchered, in order to save myself from the hue and cry of people who know not the Indians, and whose families have not the fear—morning, noon, and night—of being ravished and scalped by them.

The wife of the man at the center of wealth, civilization and refinement is not more dear to him than is the wife of the pioneer of the frontier. I have no hesitation in making my choice. I am going to stand by the people over whom I am placed, and give them what protection I can. We have not the troops to place at each man's house to defend it, and have sometimes to take the offensive, to punish for crime already committed, in order to prevent the perpetration of others.

In taking the offensive I have to select that season when I can catch the fiends, and if a village is attacked, and women and children killed, the responsibility is not with the soldiers but with the people whose crimes necessitate the attack. During the war, did any one hesitate to attack a village or town occupied by the enemy because women or children were within the lines? Did we cease to throw shells into Vicksburg or Atlanta because women and children were there?

If the women and children were saved in these places it was because they had cellars to go into, and should any of the women and children of the Piegans have lost their lives I sincerely regret that they had not similar places of resort, though I doubt if they would have availed themselves of them, for they fight with more fury than the men. The soldiers do not want to kill Indians. After long years of frontier service, I am satisfied that they are the only good practical friends the Indians have.

We care not about being abused by one side or the other. If we allow the defenceless people on the frontier to be scalped and ravished we are burnt in effigy and execrated as soulless monsters, insensible to the sufferings of humanity. If the Indian is punished, to give security to the people, we are the same soulless monsters from the other side. This is a bad predicament to be in, but, as I have said, I have taken my choice, and I am going to stand by the people whom the Government placed me here to protect.

The reservation is the last ditch of the wild Indian, but to get him there he must be fired on by the troops.—Those who think he can be induced to go there by other means are mistaken. When on the reservation he will have to be kept there by the presence of troops, and thus become tangible for the good work of civilization, and he can only be protected in his rights while there by the troops keeping off the emigrants who encroach on his land. All these points are practically exhibited each year.

The Cheyennes, Arrapahoes, Camanches, Kiowas, and Apaches have just been fired on by the troops.—During the last year, as soon as I withdrew the troops from the Sac and Fox reservations the emigrants took possession; a flood of emigration, almost ten thousand strong, moved in solid mass and occupied the Osage reservation, because there was no troops there to keep them off. All the other reservations on which the Indians were set before, will be lost in the same manner unless guarded by military.

Yours truly,
P. H. Sheridan,
Lieutenant General.

General Rosecrans favors the extension of aid to Mexico. He does not specify the quantity or quality of such aid, but he sums up the consequences of intervention thus:

First. To establish our primacy in the Western Continent in the hearts of the Mexicans and of all the Spanish American governments, on the solid basis of justice, good will, and practical fraternity.

Second. It will add to the dignity and strength of our policy in the eyes of all nations, and give a noble and beneficent interpretation to our Monroe doctrine.

Third. It will open the doors of the New World to the capital, enterprise and commerce of the United States and make it the commercial centre of the Western World, as England now is of the East.

Fourth. It will consolidate public opinion at home in favor of a new policy worthy of our future.

PLANTATION BITTERS.
S. T.—1860—X.
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid, it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates of tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. For sale by all druggists. v2n12 6m.

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
More Than 500,000 Persons Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY?
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, doctored spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine made from the native Roots and Herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and Life Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator, of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.
$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins: cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.
In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.
As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.
Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.
For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.
For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

ROSADALIS.
THE GREAT AMERICAN health RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens. Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.
Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:
I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.
Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleanser of the Blood I know no better remedy.
Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:
I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.
Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.
Rosadalis is sold by F. P. Green and Druggests generally.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, Apr. 6, 1870.

A MEETING.

A meeting of the Bellefonte Republican Club, will be held at the office of Wilson & Hutchison, on Saturday evening next, 9th inst. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance will be before the meeting. JNO. IRWIN, Jr.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

Two six roomed houses for rent at low rates and in a good neighborhood—good large gardens. Apply to A. B. HUTCHISON.

BOOK-US.—Persons who receive the REPUBLICAN from our carrier boy—Jas C. Curtin and who have changed their residences, will please notify us, so that the REPUBLICAN may greet them in their new homes.

VACANT.—We are informed that over 50 dwelling houses in this place are likely to be without tenants the coming season. High taxes, high rents and no employment for mechanics, may possibly have something to do with it.

A RICH TREAT.—That oyster soup of which we and our family partook a few days ago was a rich treat indeed. It was made by a lady friend—in every sense a lady, who is queen in the parlor, and a first class cook in the kitchen The oyster soup was excellent. May peace and prosperity attend her.

BACK AGAIN.—We are pleased to see that Dr. Samuel Belford has returned again. We saw him on Monday last in his office, at work upon a beautiful sett of teeth, for some toothless customer. The Dr. is a first class Dentist an excellent citizen and a very clever man. Persons wanting artificial teeth should call and see him.

SOLDIERS who enlisted for three years and who never received the old $100 Bounty because of being discharged for Disability, and one year men who have not received the $100 Bounty, will serve their interests by sending their discharges with statement of age, place of enlistment and Post office address, to A. B. Hutchison, Bellefonte, Pa.

THE Pennsylvania Reserve Association will meet at Lock Haven on the 7th of May. The Republican says a meeting of the Soldiers in that vicinity was held to complete arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the members of the Association. Col. Wm. B. Mann, of Philadelphia, will deliver the address at the meeting of the Association in May.

FIRE.—On Tuesday the 29th ult, the house of our friend Robert Martin, in Eagleville, was entirely consumed by fire. Mr. Martin was not at home at the time. On Wednesday last he was in Bellefonte on his way home, when he heard the unwelcome news. The family escaped without injury, and some of the furniture was saved. Insurance $1,600 in the Pennsvalley Insurance Company.

EARLY ROSE.—We again call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Jos. Baker & Son in another column of the REPUBLICAN. They advertise the Early Rose and other choice varieties of the potato. Mr. Baker is one of our most successful farmers, and never fails to draw the premium at our county fair on his potatoes. Our farmers who desire good and early seed would do well to secure it from the Messrs Baker. The Early Rose can be obtained at the store of Burnside & Thomas, J. & J. Harris, Hardware Store, Sechler & Co., in Bellefonte, and at the store of J. H. Hahn in Milesburg.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.—The second Institute appointed by the Centre County Sabbath School Association will be held at Milesburg, in the Baptist church on Wednesday and Thursday the 13th and 14th days of April, inst. It is expected that this will be an occasion of great interest to all who are in any way in sympathy with the Sunday School cause.

We are informed that all visitors will be provided with entertainment by the local committee. The first union begins Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A very interesting programme has been arranged for the occasion. The subject of township associations will receive special consideration.

GARDEN SEEDS.—The time for making garden is here. A few pretty days and nearly everybody will be engaged in this pleasant work. If you want a good garden, if you desire to be rewarded for your toil, do not buy the worthless seeds with which the market is flooded; but support home industry, by going at once to the Book Store of J. D. Miller in the Post office building, and there purchase those pure and genuine Seeds from the Sunny Side Gardens, put up and warranted true to name by C. W. Lambert.

Mr. Lambert's address is Bellefonte, Pa. Persons ordering Seeds direct from Mr. Lambert will receive them by return mail postage paid by him. Price 10 cents per package.

AGAIN.—The ass-istant editor of the National asserts, without regard to either decency or truth, that the delay in printing "that pamphlet" was occasioned by us. He knows better. He knew he was penning a falsehood when he wrote it. We stated the truth in our article in regard to the pamphlet, two weeks ago. We did more. We predicted, that it would be a flimsy job. It is. We would not let such a job go out of our office. The only decent printing connected with the pamphlet in any way is the cover, and that we did. They were compelled to come to us to print the cover on our Gordon. We pitied them and did the job. Had we refused, the pamphlet would yet be non est.

DARBY'S RAM.—David Darby, of Burnside township, an agricultural gentlemen of some note, at one time enjoyed the possession of a very fine ram. David's ram was a gem of perfection in all points but one. His sheepship would persist in the unpleasant habit of "butting" his owner whenever an opportunity presented itself. Our friend David grew weary of that kind of familiarity between himself and his favorite sheep, and concluded that he would not stand the ram's nonsense any longer. Darby being somewhat of a genius in his way, took an iron sledge hammer, attached a rope of several feet in length to it, suspended the hammer from a limb of an apple tree in the orchard where the ram usually vegitated and awaited results. It was not long before David's ram discovered the sledge hanging from the apple tree. The sight caused his "butting" proclivities to develop and his ramship made for it and a moment after the sledge was seen flying in the air, but, like the pendulum of a clock, came back to the same place it so suddenly started from. The ram looked at it in surprise and astonishment. Now David's ram not only possessed pluck but also a large amount of perseverance. He had never been treated in such a manner before. He then put on all the dignity of which the best blooded rams are capable of, and summoned all of his strength, backed up a few feet, and went for the sledge again with the same result as before. He then continued to "butt" it, thinking, no doubt, that he must come out victor in the end.

The next morning our friend David went to the orchard to learn the final result. He could not see his favorite sheep in any place. He soon discovered the sledge vibrating and upon a close examination discovered the tail of his ram butting away at the sledge, the ram having "butted" himself all away but the tail, it inheriting the persevering disposition of the body seemed bound to "play its hand out" and keep up the dignity of the house of rams of butting propensities, of which it was only a candle appendage.

As A. Lincoln would say, this anecdote of David's ram reminds us of certain individuals in this place who have been butting at the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN for some time past. Remember the fate of the ram.

"COAL OIL" EXPLOSIONS.—It is asserted upon good authority that fifteen per cent. of the fires that annually occur in our large cities are caused by kerosene explosions. It has also been ascertained that in the United States during the year 1869, 14,325 persons lost their lives and 8,243 were seriously injured by the explosions of "coal oil." The question naturaly arises, why this great sacrifice of life and property is permitted? Now it is a well demonstrated fact that every coal oil refiner can put in the market a safe non explosive article if he choses. He can make it to stand fire at one hundred and forty degrees Fahrenheit or any other degree of temperature that the refiner may select without exploding.

We have laws regulating the sale and storage of gunpowder and the treatment of contageous diseases, yet we have no practical law regulating the manufacture and sale of kerosene. To our mind the fault, in a great measure, is attributable to the consumer, who for the sake of five or ten cents on the gallon will run the risk of having their wives and children consigned at any moment to a horable death. Nor is that all they are guilty of. By their preferring a cheap article they tempt refiners to become dishonest.

So long as refiners are permitted to supply the retailers and the latter are allowed to send a spurious article, just so long will such accidents happen as the one we recorded in our issue of last week, and the annual moriality, from the same cause, continue to increase. As our legislature has failed to protect the citizens of the state from the fatal dangers pertaining to the sale of spurious kerosene, it is the duty of city and borough corporations to take the matter in hand and pass stringent laws, and enforce them, against the sale of the spurious article of coal oil which our markets appear to be flooded with. It is about time that reformers and Philanthropists as well as every other person should be moving in this matter.

NEW INVENTION.—We are indebted to a correspondent, for the following:

"It may be of interest to some of our iron manufacturers in this county to learn that a new method of making steel out of puddled iron was discovered at the Hope Rolling Mills, at Allentown, Pa., about a week or ten days ago. By this process steel can be made at an expense, not to exceed that of making iron, of more than one, or one and a half cents per pound, and in about the same time."

"I was shown quite a number of samples of this steel in bars, knives, Railroad rails and in bands, and am free to say, could see no difference between it and our best cast steel. The company above named have made quite a number of T rails capped with this steel and thus far have not found a single defect in the weld—a square bar an inch thick was tested the other day! (which had not been rolled or hammered) and it withstood a strain of 127,000 lbs before it broke. The best hammered iron will only draw 65,000 lbs to the square inch. This quality alone will make this discovery one of great importance in the construction of buildings, bridges, locomotives, &c., where iron is largely used, as the same strength will be secured with but one half the weight."

HOTEL.—One of the best Hotels in Howard borough is the one kept by our old friend Alex. Knoll. We paid him a visit a short time ago and we confess to having been cared for in the best of style. From all we can learn he keeps a well regulated house, and we know whereof we affirm, when we say that he sets a good table, and furnishes his guests with excellent accommodations.

FARMERS CLUB.—The farmers club, of Oak Hall (Harris tp.,) is in successful operation. It meets on Tuesday evening of each week, where the members exchange opinions and discuss the subject previously selected. Officers—C. Dale, Pres't; Adam Stover, Vice Pres't; Joseph Baker, Sec'y; George K. Baker, Cor. Sec'y; Jacob Sherick, Treas; John S. Foster, George D. Kline and Elish B. Heston, Executive Committee. Subject discussed last night, April 5th, was the Potato and its culture.

Address of the President, Boalsburg, Pa., Cor. Sec'y, Linden Hall, Pa.

REPORT of Central City High School for month ending March, 1870. Whole number in attendance 60, giving an average of 54, which is equal to 90 per cent. We have 60 in spelling, 60 in reading, 60 in writing, 60 in mental arithmetic, 40 in geography, 40 in grammar, and 5 in physical geography. Monthly visits from Directors, Wolf and Taylor. County Superintendent been to see us three times. If our patrons would pay us more visits we are confident that more rapid improvement would be the result.

F. W. CAMPBELL, Teacher.

MAPS.—We were shown several specimens of Maps on last Monday, which were drawn by Master Wm. A. Lukens, Clara B. Lukens aged respectively 13 and 15 years, which, taking into consideration the age of these children, surpasses anything, in the way of Map-drawing we have ever seen. Both of these children were pupils of Mr. H. O. Kline, who taught the Coal Stream School, in Rush township, during the winter. The progress of these children as well as the advancement made by all the pupils speak volumes in favor of Mr. Kline as a teacher.

NEW FIRM.—We take great pleasure in calling the attention of our many readers, to the fact that our young and enterprising friends, John S. Houtz and James M. Goodhart have entered into co-partnership with J. Rits Burns, in Lewistown, under the firm name of Burns, Goodhart & Houtz, for the purpose of doing a Dry Goods and Grocery business. Messrs. Houtz and Goodhart are from this county, and our Pennsvalley readers, in particular, know them too well as gentlemen of ability and energy, for us to say anything in their favor that would recommend them to their patronage. Mr. Burns is, in every respect, a gentleman, and understands his business. Persons in need of any goods in their line, will not only find this a gentlemanly and reliable firm, but their Dry Goods to be of the best and cheapest in the market, and their Groceries the choicest ever brought to Lewistown.

Their room is in the large Iron Front Building, near the Valley House. We wish you abundant success, gentlemen.

For the Republican.

DALTON, O., March 18th, 1870.

COL. W. W. BROWN:

Having written you some time in last month by which I sent three dollars for the REPUBLICAN and the American Agriculturist. The REPUBLICAN comes all right but the Agriculturist takes care to stay away, and seeing in the REPUBLICAN a notice for all such facts to be made known to you, I thought best to do so. I thought I had sent my name in time for the March number and would like to have got it, but if my name was not in time then I must be content. Please have it along as soon as you can.

Times here are much as when I last wrote you. The weather being very changeable, but not very cold. We have many little snows 1 to 1½ inches but they soon disappear under the rays of old Sol. I still see and hear of close times in the east. Now some think we have tight times here but I cannot see it so, from the fact that anything that is for sale in the shape of grain or marketing of any kind will bring the cash at all times—no trusting, trick and trading. Also there have been several public sales, at which property (stock particularly) sells high, at one sale on the 19th of last month, there was one cow sold for $84, one brood sow sold for $60.75, at another, one cow sold for $75, one horse for $200, one horse for $202, one brood sow and 10 pigs for $50, and cows in general are bringing from $50 to $60, and land is selling from $80 to $100 per acre. So I think by seeing these sales and knowing it to be so, it is satisfactory evidence that the people do not dread high taxes out here. One of my neighbors has sold his farm for $78 per acre, and has bought another small farm of 80 acres for which he pays $90 per acre all cash this spring making $7,200. I owed him a little he told me a few days ago he did not need it he had enough without it to pay for his farm and that was all he needed. There are many selling out here and going where they can get more land for their money and I wish we could have all the changes filled with Republicans from the East. It is a good place for farmers and editors too.

Since writing the above the Agriculturist has come to hand all right.

S. S.

SUCCESS.—D. M. Burlew has opened a Shoe Manufactory in Howard Borough. Mr Burlew is a finished workman—a first class boot and shoe maker. That he may be well patronized by the people of Howard, is our sincere wish. We believe they will find it to their interest to do so.

HALFMOON.—The public schools have closed in Halfmoon township. The school at the eight-square closed on the 25th ult. The school was taught by Ellis Lytle. It is the largest school in the township, and was well governed. The day upon which the school closed the house was decorated with wreaths evergreens and mottoes, presenting a most beautiful appearance. The programme consisted of the following: Essays, Declamations, Dialogues, &c., &c. The scholars did their part in the best style, doing great credit to themselves, and their excellent teacher.

Our reporter informs us, that the citizens manifested a deep interest in the whole affair, and was delighted with the progress and success of their little ones—the future statesmen, farmers and mechanics of America.

The school at Ebb's School house closed on the 22d ult. It was also a success, proving that the teacher Miss Shaw, understands her business well.

The school at Centre Line, closed on the 24th ult. Miss Beckie Downing was the teacher of this school. It was not large, the order was good and the progress of the pupils remarkable.

Locations.

At this season of the year many changes of location take place. The old man who thinks he can better himself—the young marrying man—perchance the capitalist who has made money in cities and who think farming a good thing—are all on the look-out for some place to go to. Usually the only things thought of are good land and distance from market. Besides this, one should never forget the character of the men who are already settled about the spot in question.

If one's object in settling on the land is a missionary one, it will be best to settle in the most benighted old fogyish district imaginable; but, generally speaking, one's object is to make money first, and last to enjoy the pleasure and comforts which money brings. All of this depends as much on the surroundings, as on any advantages in the place itself. There are certain principles which govern the success of communities, which, if they prevail, make a place prosperous, and which, if known to exist, may make it worth while to go and see a place proposed for settlement. If these are known to be wanting it will generally save time and regret in after life, to give it the "go by" at once.

It is a remarkable fact which has been developed by social science societies, that the rule of wealth lies in the largest-minded men. "Bread cast upon the waters returneth after many days," has a real depth of meaning which millions who have repeated the words never dreamed of. The thoroughly selfish man, who acts on principles which has only his own good for its vitalizing powers, becomes at last completely individualized; and that co-operation, so necessary to make things go, dies out in his heart.

Above all, then, in choosing localities, go where the neighbors are generous, unselfish, high-toned and public-spirited, who have good moral principles, and who prove their faith by their works, and you find a place where you can not only make money, but live in a society which truly understands is the real pleasures of life.

Beaver Dams.

A Trapper in the Rocky Mountains gives us this paragraph about that skillful little builder, the beaver:

"The manner in which the beavers make their dam, and construct their lodge, has long been reckoned among the wonders of the animal creation; and some observers have claimed for the little creature more sagacity than it really possesses, its instinct is still sufficiently wonderful. It is certainly true that it knows how to keep the water of a stream to a certain level, by means of an obstruction, and that it cuts down trees for the purpose of backing up the water by a dam. It is not true, however, that it can always fell a tree in the direction required for this purpose. The timber about a beaver dam is felled in all directions; but as trees that grow near the water generally lean towards it the tree, when cut takes the proper direction by gravitation alone. The beaver then proceeds to cut up the fallen timber into lengths of about three feet and convey them to the spot where the dam is to be situated, securing them in their places by means of mud and stones. The work is commenced when the water is low, and carried on as it rises, until it has attained the desired height. And not only is it made of the requisite heighth and strength, but its shape is suited exactly to the nature of the stream in which it is built. If the water is sluggish, the dam is straight; if rapid and turbulent, the barrier is constructed of a convex form, the better to resist the action of the water. When the beavers have once commenced a dam, its extent and thickness are continually augmented, not only by their labors, but by accidental accumulations, thus accommodating itself to the size of the growing community.—At length, after a lapse of many years the water being spread over a considerable tract, and filled up by yearly accumulations of drift-wood and earth seeds take root in the new-made ground, and the old beaver dams become green meadows, or thickets of cotton wood and willow."

Two Irishmen stopping at the Island House, Toledo, lit their gas, and with windows open, sat down to enjoy a chat. The hungriest of the Toledo mosquitoes soon flocked in and drove them desperate. The clerk, who was summoned to devise some defense against them, told them to close the window and put out the gas. They acted on the suggestion and placed themselves between the sheets. Just as they began to doze, a lightning-bug which had strayed into the room, caught the eye of one of the travellers. He roused his companion with a punch, "Jamie, Jamie, it's no use! Here's one of the craturs sarchin for us wid a lantern!"

JACOB SNYDER, of Butler county, Pa., challenges the United States to compete with two steers he has at present on hand. The steers will be six years old in May next. One is white and the other is red. The white steer is six feet high, girths ten feet ten inches around the body and weighs 3,425 pounds. The red steer is six feet two inches high, girths ten feet two inches around the body and weighs 3,430 pounds. We think Mr. Snyder will bear off the palm in a contest with any man's steers in the United States.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

RANGING FROM $6.50 TO $18.00

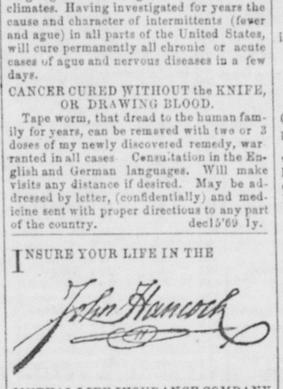
INSURE YOUR LIFE IN THE



MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF BOSTON, MASS.

This is a Mutual Company, and presents the advantages offered by other companies, and in addition, the Non-forfeiture Law, under which this Company was organized, as per example—a person aged 35 is insured in this company on the Life plan, as follows:

One Annual Premium will continue a Policy in force 2 years and 3 days.
Two Annual Premiums 4 yrs. & 12 days.
Three do do 6 do 27 do.
Four do do 8 do 46 do.
And so on, according to number of premiums paid.

The man who holds a Life Insurance Policy in this Company for $10,000, has better property to leave his family than his farm and stock of the same amount.

MUSIC, DRAWING AND PAINTING SCHOOL.

MRS. M. S. DUNHAM

having been a successful teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music—Piano, Melodian, Organ and thorough Bass—Painting and Drawing, for the last twelve years, is now prepared to admit a few more scholars to her school, upon reasonable terms.

Having recently received a splendid new Piano, of a celebrated Boston manufacture, which, pupils not having instruments of their own to practice on, can have the use of.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore received, she hopes to merit a continuance of the same. Rooms up one flight of stairs, over Centre Co. Banking House, on Allegheny street. Also, agent for all kinds of good Musical Instruments. Address, or call on her at her rooms, at Bellefonte, Pa. jy21'69-tf.
